

Justice... Professionalism... Service... Since 1886

.75 Law & Legal CLE Credit – A/V Approval #1083035

Recording Date – December 11, 2017

Recording Availability – October 12, 2018

Meeting Location	Date	Time	Topic
King County Bar Association 1200 Fifth Avenue - Suite 700 Seattle, WA	Monday, December 11, 2017	12:00 PM to 1:15 PM	Pro Bono Appellate Practice

AGENDA

12:00 PM Introduction

12:10 PM Presentation: ‘Pro Bono Appellate Practice’, by Leonard Feldman, Peterson Wampold Rosato Feldman & Luna; Jim Lobsenz, Carney Badley Spellman, P.S.; Elizabeth Ford, Fair Work Center

- RPC 6.1 and lawyers’ professional responsibility to pro bono publico service
- Statistics on unmet civil legal needs in Washington and across the nation
- The Ninth Circuit Civil Pro Bono Program
- Public interest and criminal pro bono practice

1:15 PM Adjourn

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

Leonard Feldman, Peterson Wampold Rosato Feldman & Luna – Leonard Feldman is a partner at Peterson Wampold Rosato Feldman & Luna, where he focuses on state and federal appeals. Mr. Feldman attended the University of Washington, where he graduated summa cum laude in Psychology, and Harvard Law School, where he was twice awarded the Sears Prize (given to the top two students on the basis of grades) and graduated magna cum laude in 1991. He then worked as a judicial law clerk for Ninth Circuit Judge Jerome Farris. Since completing his Ninth Circuit clerkship, Leonard has specialized in appellate practice before the Ninth Circuit and the Washington appellate courts. Leonard is a member of and was previously Chair of the King County Bar Association’s Appellate Section, is a member of the Washington Appellate Lawyers Association, and is currently a District Coordinator for the Ninth Circuit Pro Bono Program and a member of the Ninth Circuit’s mentor program. In 2006, Mr. Feldman received the Washington Bar Association’s Pro Bono Award for his work in appeals that raise important civil rights issues. He is also a frequent writer and speaker on topics relating to appellate practice. Among other articles, he has co-authored three articles with Washington Court of Appeals Judge Stephen Dwyer regarding appellate brief writing, oral argument, and discretionary review.

Jim Lobsenz, Carney Badley Spellman, P.S. – Jim Lobsenz is a shareholder at Carney Badley Spellman, P.S. since 1991. Jim practices civil rights and criminal defense law. He clerked for Justice Mathew O. Tobriner of the California Supreme Court and for Chief Justice Vincent L. McKusick of the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine. An elected fellow of the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers, he has argued over 25 cases in the Washington Supreme Court. Over the past 15 years he has taught courses on freedom of speech, constitutional law, and civil rights litigation as an adjunct professor at Seattle University School of Law. He has received the William O. Douglas Award, given by the Washington Association of Criminal Defense Attorneys, in recognition of lifetime achievement and dedication to the defense of accused persons. He is also the recipient of the ACLU's Civil Libertarian Award and the United Nations Association's Human Rights Day Award.

Elizabeth Ford, Fair Work Center – Elizabeth Ford is the Legal Director for the Fair Work Center and a Distinguished Practitioner in Residence at Seattle University School of Law. Before beginning her teaching career, she practiced labor and employment law in Seattle for 20 years, representing unions and plaintiffs in employment cases. An experienced clinical legal educator, she developed and taught the Mediation Clinic at SU as well as the current Workers' Rights Clinic offered at both Seattle University and UW Law. She has also taught Labor Law, Negotiation, Dispute Resolution, Collective Bargaining, and Legal Writing at SU and UW Schools of Law and served as the Assistant Dean at UW Law. She founded the Fair Work Legal Clinic in 2016 as a partnership among SU, UW, KCBA, and the Fair Work Center.