SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

Mark Weiss, Law Office of J. Mark Weiss – Mark Weiss speaks, instructs, and writes about Collaborative Practice and dispute resolution. Mark has practiced law in Seattle since 1987; he retired from litigation in January 2007 to become a full-time Collaborative lawyer and mediator. Mark served for five years on the Board of IACP, chairing the Standards Committee and co-chairing the Ethical Standards Rewrite Task Force. Prior to then, he was a Board member of King County Collaborative Law and Collaborative Professionals of Washington. Mark chaired the effort to enact the UCLA in Washington. He also served as Chair of the WSBA Family Law Section and the KCBA Board of Trustees, where he played an instrumental role founding the KCBA Collaborative Law Section. Mark is a Fellow of the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers, is “AV” rated by Martindale-Hubbell, and was the 2005 recipient of the Attorney of the Year Award from the Washington State Bar Association Family Law Section.

Tara Richardson, Lasher Holzapfel Sperry & Ebberson, PLLC – Tara Richardson is a partner at the law firm of Lasher Holzapfel Sperry & Ebberson, PLLC and has solely practiced family law since her graduation from Seattle University in 1998. Over the years, Tara has learned that a truly successful outcome is one that achieves the client’s unique, individual needs and goals. Tara has been recognized as a ‘Best Lawyer’ in the area of Family Law (The Best Lawyers in America, 2019) and a Super Lawyer (Washington Law & Politics, 2012, 2017, 2018). She is also a member of the International Academy of Collaborative Professionals and is a Member of the Board of the Collaborative Professionals of Washington.
