

Practical Tips for Drafting and Analyzing Powers of Attorney Under Washington's Revised Uniform Power of Attorney Act

February 22, 2019 ~ 12:00-1:00pm

1.00 Law & Legal CLE Credit

King County Bar Association, 1200 Fifth Avenue, Suite 700, Seattle

Agenda

11:45-12:00pm Registration and Coffee Service

12:00 - 1:00pm POWERS OF ATTORNEY
McKean J. Evans, Pivotal Law Group

1:00pm Evaluations & Adjourn

Topics Include:

- When Are Powers of Attorney Likely to be Required
- Review of the 2017 Revised Uniform Power of Attorney Act
- Evaluating Your Client's Needs and How They Can be Best Addressed Under the New Act
- The Revised Act's Broad "Default" Powers
- Automatic Limitations on Power of Attorney Authority
- Termination and Effectiveness Considerations
- Adjusting Forms to Accommodate the Revised Act
- Estate Planning Considerations

Faculty

McKean Evans is an attorney practicing in Pivotal Law Group's estate planning and probate practice, where he advises individuals regarding estate planning, business succession planning, trust disputes and probate. In addition to estate planning and probate matters, McKean represents individuals and small business in litigation regarding insurance, ERISA-governed employee benefits, employment law, and business disputes. McKean joined Pivotal Law Group in 2017 after relocating to Seattle with his wife, a native of the Pacific Northwest. McKean is active in the King County Bar Association, Washington State Bar Association, and Washington Association for Justice. In his free time, McKean explores the beautiful Washington wilderness and does pro bono work for the Washington chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).