

Washington's New Non-Compete Law

December 12, 2019

4:00-5:00pm

King County Bar Association, 1200 Fifth Avenue, Suite 700, Seattle

1.00 Law & Legal CLE Credit

OVERVIEW

- Overview of the new law
- Ambiguities/gray areas that exist in the law
- Viability of non-competes after the law takes effect
- Challenges, strategic considerations, and advice for employers

AGENDA

- 3:45-4:00pm Registration and Coffee Service
- 4:00-5:00pm Washington's New Non-Compete Law
Quinn Oppenheim | Summit Law Group
- 5:00pm Evaluations & Adjourn

FACULTY

Quinn Oppenheim | Summit Law Group

Quinn Oppenheim is a trial lawyer with Summit Law Group who maintains a general litigation practice with an emphasis on employment-related matters. She represents corporations in complex civil litigation matters, including employment disputes, non-compete and trade secrets litigation, class action defense, and commercial contract disputes. Columbia University School of Law (J.D., 2004); Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar. Bryn Mawr College (A.B., 2001, magna cum laude). Prior to joining Summit Law Group, Quinn worked as an Assistant Public Defender with the Defender Association of Philadelphia. While there, she represented clients charged with serious felonies and tried hundreds of cases to verdict.