- What is the best strategy for staying out of trouble and having my (or my Firm’s) reputation damaged?
- How should I think about cloud services in relation to my overall cybersecurity?

1:15 PM Adjourn

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

Paul Rich, JPMorgan Chase & Co. - Paul Rich joined JPMorgan Chase & Co. in 2019 as Executive Director, Data Management & Protection, with the mission of tackling the management of all unstructured data within the company. Paul is passionate about data security, privacy, principle-based design and goal-setting, and has over thirty years of technology experience.

During the more than twenty years Paul spent working for Microsoft he was on the team that launched the company's first iterations of commercial cloud services – what would eventually become Office 365. He oversaw the design and development of key security and compliance features of Office 365 as well as the integration of encryption to the Exchange and SharePoint Online cloud services. Paul has been a regular speaker at Microsoft and industry events on the topics of cloud security, privacy, encryption, trust, and transparency.

Paul merges past and present experience to push cloud vendors to improve their security posture and data protection features, and he cultivates relationships across the financial services industry in support of this goal. Paul is co-Chair of the Cloud Security Alliance Cloud Key Management Working Group and co-Chair of the International Association of Privacy Professionals Seattle/Bellevue Chapter.
